Have a Heart Clinic

DID YOU KNOW...

Life Expectancy in Years (chart, y-axis 68–84)
X-axis: Iraq, Jamaica, Vietnam, Louisville, United States, Canada, Japan

Louisville's average life expectancy is 77.6 years. The national average is 79 years.

WHY?

America's biggest killer: heart disease. Certain neighborhoods in the Louisville area are more affected than others.

Neighborhoods Affected by Heart Disease

Louisville area neighborhoods — Death rates per 100,000 population

Neighborhood	Death rate
California-Parkland	341
Portland	327
Phoenix Hill-Smoketown-Shelby...	303
South Central Louisville	296
Downtown-Old...	287
Germantown	285
Algonquin-Park Hill-Park Duvalle	264
Russell	253
Fairdale	247
Buechel-Newburg-Indian Trail	229
Chickasaw-Shawnee	228
Shively	224
South Louisville	212
Valley Station	210
Butchertown-Clifton-Crescent Hill	192
Southeast Louisville	180
Highview-Okolona	178
Pleasure Ridge Park	178
Fern Creek	137
Highlands	132
Floyd's Fork	130
Northeast Jefferson	123
Jeffersontown	123
Saint Matthews	120

THE SOLUTION?

A specialty healthcare clinic providing cardiovascular services and education to insured and uninsured individuals.

The Have a Heart Clinic, located in downtown Louisville, provides services ranging from cardiovascular screenings to ECGs. All of these services are provided at a lower cost than other local hospitals and clinics offer.

For more information, call 502-245-0002